

BOLD Professional Development Series

October 2017

Theme: Reviewing and enhancing BOLD learning & teaching practices

- What peer review processes do you undertake to support quality practices for teaching staff in your course?
- Are the resources you developed sustainable for use in future online or blended learning environments?
- Are your student feedback tools or processes giving you what you need for future enhancements?
- How are you formulating a process for identifying and investigating course enhancements?

Consider the following suite of professional development opportunities to support your teaching practices throughout Semester 2, 2017.

SHORT COURSES—ONLINE | FACILITATED

Short Course 6 – Reviewing and enhancing BOLD L&T practices

Explore ways to incorporate peer review processes to support quality practices for teaching staff in your course, and ensure your student feedback tools are giving you what you need for future enhancements. Determine if the resources you developed are sustainable for use in future or blended learning environments, and how to formulate a process for identifying and investigating future course enhancements.
