

Coronavirus response - Federation University Australia

Wednesday 25 March 2020

Dear *|FName|*,

As a Federation University student, who is not enrolled in a current semester one subject, I wanted to provide you with an update on Federation University Australia's response to the novel coronavirus, COVID-19.

Federation University will pause teaching activities on campus from Tuesday 24 March for the rest of the week, and will commence online delivery of higher education programs from Monday 30 March.

Research activities will continue; our Newsroom has been updated with targeted advice in this area.

Student services and support will still be available during the pause on teaching activity this week, via phone or online.

This is a challenging time for our whole community and we understand you may be feeling anxious about the pandemic situation. I encourage you to utilise the free and confidential counselling service for students if you would like to talk to someone about how you are feeling.

I would like to reassure you that Federation University is well positioned to deal with this situation. Please stay informed by regularly checking our Federation University Newsroom website and social media for updates.

Best regards,

Professor Helen Bartlett
Vice-Chancellor and President
Federation University Australia
