Entry Requirements

Entry Requirements will be determined by your background.

Recent Secondary Education: Current Year 12 students, including applicants who have completed Year 12 within the previous two years (and have not undertaken Higher Education or VET studies), must meet Year 12 prerequisite entry requirements.

Eligible applicants will be ranked for admission based on their ATAR and ATAR Adjustment Factors – e.g. Special Entry Access Scheme (SEAS) and Subject Adjustments. Applicants will be selected in order of ranking and the number of offers made to applicants will be based on course specific quotas.

Non year 12 applicants are people who have undertaken Higher Education or VET studies; completed Year 12 more than 2 years previously; or those who are being considered based on other work/life experience. These applicants will be considered based on relevant background, as well as demonstrated ability to undertake further studies.

Some courses have extra requirements during the application process. Depending on the study area, this may be an interview, folio or audition, test or additional form. These are essential requirements and must be completed in order to be considered for selection.

FedUni offers a range of admission pathways for students who do not meet specified entry requirements.

How to apply

You can apply to FedUni via VTAC or direct application. How you apply, and the subsequent entry requirements will be determined by your applicant background.

Higher Education applicants: Current Year 12 students and applicants applying for more than one institution must apply through VTAC. Non Year 12 students only applying to FedUni can submit a direct application form to FedUni.

TAFE applicants: Please check individual courses as application requirements may vary.

Study modes

You may study full-time or part-time, on-campus, or online (where applicable), or a blend of study modes where available.

Student fees

Fees will vary dependent on your circumstances and what course you apply for.

Scholarships, grants and bursaries

Scholarships, grants and bursaries are available to eligible students and may be awarded based on academic merit, indigenous background, financial challenges and hardship or relocation support.

Get online to find out all of the information you need on courses, campuses, scholarships, fees, applying and getting started at FedUni.

Bachelor of Applied Management

Give yourself the skills to successfully run your own business.

Increase your chances of moving into a managerial role. Become the manager that every employer wants to hire and every employee wants to work for.

This practical degree will turn your diploma and advanced diploma into an undergraduate degree with just one extra year of full time study*.

You’ll consolidate your people, project and human resource management skills with key knowledge needed to take a business to the next level.

This course has been developed by Federation Business School to challenge the traditional method of obtaining a three year undergraduate degree.

* Please contact the School for further details.

Further study options
- Master of Business Administration

Career opportunities
Graduates are employed in a wide variety commercial, government and professional settings, in roles such as: managers in business projects, operations, human resources, or marketing.
You may also work as a supervisor, business strategy consultant or run your own business.

The BAM consolidates your prior learning and management experience into a bachelor degree in three key steps.

1 > 2 > 3

1 Diploma
2 Advanced Diploma
3 Bachelor of Applied Management

Your background determines your entry point. If you’re already working in business or management and have a relevant diploma and advanced diploma, with just one further year of study — you’ll graduate with a fully accredited undergraduate degree.

We also understand that you may have been working in the industry for a significant amount of time, but do not hold a recognised qualification. We can develop a pathway for you to ensure you achieve your goals.

Sam Carroll
Graduate: Bachelor of Business (Finance and Investment), Gippsland Campus
Procurement Officer, Latrobe City

"After recently graduating, I have been employed at Latrobe City Council where I undertook placement during my degree. My work is interesting and challenging. It includes supplier account management, purchasing data analysis, reviewing and processing purchasing requests and responding to a wide range of enquires. I decided to pursue a career in the corporate environment and chose to study near my home at FedUni. I enjoyed the range of business subjects, the small class sizes and the opportunity to apply for the Industry Placement Program. This became a highlight, as it prepared me for employment. When on placement at Latrobe City, I worked closely with the Procurement Coordinator on a wide range of tasks. It was beneficial as I worked with finance programs and the generating of reports and analytical data – which has become one of my strengths. I believe that my degree and placement have prepared me well for leadership positions in the future. I will always be appreciative of FedUni for allowing me the opportunities that have furthered both my personal and professional development."
Work Integrated Learning (WIL)
Gain work experience while you study

At Federation Business School we ensure you have opportunities to gain valuable experience and develop vital networks as part of your degree. Be work-ready to succeed in the graduate marketplace. Participate in paid placement, internships, overseas exchanges, class practice or a project.

Jordan Crerar
Bachelor of Business (Marketing)
“I originally chose a sports business management degree at FedUni but quickly discovered marketing was my passion. After deferring studies to travel overseas, I resumed studies in the Bachelor of Business (Marketing) at the Mt Helen Campus. The decision to study at FedUni was partly influenced by a group of students a year ahead of me at school who studied at the university. I’m not sure where my qualification will take me, but I am highly motivated to complete my studies and move into a great career.”

Stephanie Burzacott
Bachelor of Management (Human Resources)
“My industry placement at Centacare enhanced my skills and gave me a more practical view on how HRM processes can be applied in a real work place setting. It was invaluable and gave me the opportunity to gain experience which resulted in my current job as a Human Resource Consultant. FedUni is very supportive and helps students create their future careers by encouraging them to develop confidence throughout their studies. When I have needed support from my program coordinator and lecturers they have always been there to assist in any possible way.”

Sam Bye
Bachelor of Business
Sam worked for ten years before heading to University. “I did some research and found that I wanted a more practical focus, with context and real world experience, and Federation Business School offered that. The whole idea was getting the skills to set up my own business or to go back into a big company and not have any limitation on promotion.”
Two years after his graduation, Sam has achieved both. He is currently dividing his time between a marketing and technical advisory role for a corporate multinational with a commitment to sustainable agriculture, and work with his own company, Bass Brands, which advises on the marketing of sustainable seafood. It’s a future he wouldn’t have imagined for himself: “I always wanted to go into marketing but didn’t feel I had the knowledge. Now that I have my degree, I can critique plans and strategies and I’m a lot more valuable to an organisation.” “The sustainability subjects were really important. It was something I hadn’t thought about too much before but it really gave me purpose and drove the direction of my career.”

Bachelor of Commerce

Become a leader in commerce and business. From mining to manufacturing, retail to hospitality, or from tourism to logistics.

Be a stockbroker in London, New York or Stockholm. Run the accounts for your family business. Manage the finances for your local council. You will study a range of core areas focusing on commerce and may also include a major in accounting, law, or economics and finance. We’ll help you get practical experience in financial organisations and departments during your degree so that when you graduate, you’ll not only have the skills, but also the confidence to enter the graduate market.

The Bachelor of Commerce will prepare you for a career that keeps you thinking, allows you to travel and lets you work across different industries throughout your career. As a generalist degree, it is particularly attractive if you want to experience many different commerce courses rather than select a specific pathway.

Majors are available in Accounting, Economics & Finance and Law. The Accounting major is accredited with CPA Australia. A variety of double majors are also available. See page 12.

Scott Lowater

Bachelor of Business (Accounting)

“I commenced study at TAFE after a gap year following school, completing a Certificate and Advanced Diploma. I then commenced studies in the Bachelor of Business majoring in accounting. The credit from the previous course allowed me to complete my degree in two years.

The course was diverse and I acquired knowledge in accounting and other areas including foreign trading and advanced topics in finance. I enrolled in the Industry Placement Program (IPP) where the final year included paid work experience in an area relevant to the degree. Prior to completion of the degree, my IPP host organisation Patison Partners in Warragul offered me my current position.

The job is rewarding. I can use my knowledge to help the community prosper. The reason I chose to be an accountant was to help local businesses be the best they can be.”

Completion of an undergraduate degree with at least a Distinction average in third-year courses in the business discipline in which Honours studies will be pursued, and no less than a Credit average in all second and third year level courses.

Extra Requirements
- Submit a Research Proposal form with your application.

An Honours degree offers qualified students the opportunity for specialised study in business at an advanced level through a combination of coursework and research. The qualification aims to provide a post-degree level of study to widen your knowledge in one of the specialist areas in a business-related discipline offered by Federation Business School. It gives you the training necessary to conduct independent high quality research in business and academic settings, cultivates analytical and critical skills and an awareness of emerging developments in business. The Honours degree has been developed as a pathway for research and study at Masters or PhD level but can also provide a competitive edge in the market place.

This qualification is intended for applicants with an undergraduate degree in a non-accounting discipline who are looking for a career in professional accounting. It can also meet the needs of people who have significant experience working in accounting and who now wish to increase their knowledge, skills, and recognition and employment options by having a high-level qualification in this area. In exceptional circumstances, applicants who do not have a bachelor’s degree may be admitted on the basis of relevant work experience, and demonstrated capacity to undertake the course as determined by Federation Business School.

The Master of Professional Accounting has been designed for students whose first degree is in a non-accounting field. It provides you with comprehensive studies in accounting theory and practice that is recognised by both CPA Australia and Chartered Accountants Australia; New Zealand and the Institute of Public Accountants in Australia, enabling you to pursue a pathway to qualification as a professional accountant.

In addition to core subject areas of accounting, financial management and auditing, you will be introduced to related disciplines, including business law, taxation, information systems, economics and quantitative methods. The course is offered via flexible delivery, allowing you to study at the Mt Helen Campus or via online delivery.

This course also offers additional entry and exit points — Graduate Certificate of Professional Accounting and the Graduate Diploma in Professional Accounting.
Master of Business Administration (MBA)

Duration: Varies on your background and study mode
Location: Mt Helen Campus (Ballarat); Berwick; Gippsland; Off-Campus/Online
Application: Direct
Entry Requirements (Refer to page 1 for full details):
A bachelor degree or equivalent professional qualification. Applicants without tertiary qualifications, but with significant managerial work experience and an assessed capacity to undertake study at this level may also be granted admission.

Excel in the rapidly changing business world with our MBA and become a global business leader, world-class manager or successful entrepreneur. You have an existing degree and now want a competitive business edge. You’ll learn the suite of most important business skills like accounting, finance, human resource management, marketing and more. You’ll also boost your leadership skills and workshop your own management style with our managerial courses. Then you’ll take the lead with your own project, strategically planning an enterprise. Plus, if you’re studying our 16 course MBA, you can choose subjects from our other postgraduate business courses like strategic marketing, business economics or entrepreneurship.

Depending on your previous studies and experience, you’ll take either our 12-course MBA over 1½ years of full-time study (or the part-time equivalent), or our 16-course MBA over two years of full-time study (or the part-time equivalent).

Additional MBA entry and exit points:
- Graduate Certificate in Management
- Graduate Diploma in Management

Emily Situ
Master of Business Administration
The first thing that surprised Emily about studying at Federation Business School, was the diversity in age of her classmates. “In China, when you study an MBA, everyone will be pretty much the same age. At FedUni I studied with people of different ages and they can share their working experiences with you.” Prior to studying her MBA Emily worked as a Marketing Officer for a Hong Kong government organisation in China for four years.

She is now the General Manager for a large agency. “I was attracted to Federation Business School by one statement: ‘Come to Ballarat and you can experience the real Australia’. Ballarat is so different to where I grew up in China. In the building I worked in at Guangzhou, there were 30,000 people.” “I’m still in touch with some of the teachers I met. We update each other, and I ask them for advice in my career.” “The MBA is about helping you to think strategically, which enables you to develop a management style. The Federation Business School MBA was the most memorable time in my life so far.”
