

PRME at Federation Business School

At Federation Business School, we believe that ethical businesses have responsibilities for their impacts on people, the environment and the economy.

Our aim is to produce graduates who will be tomorrow's leaders, who will make a positive difference to society and the planet. We do this through our education programs, the impact of our research and through meaningful engagement with business, government and the community.

We are proud signatories to the United Nations Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) initiative.

The PRME is a program for global business educators. It aims to incorporate sustainability and corporate responsibility into curricula and research to educate organisational leaders who will balance economic goals with societal and environmental goals.

The Principles for Responsible Management Education are:

- Purpose: We will develop the capabilities of students to be future generators of sustainable value for business and society at large and to work for an inclusive and sustainable global economy;
- Research: We will engage in conceptual and empirical research that advances our understanding about the role, dynamics, and impact of corporations in the creation of sustainable social environmental and economic value;
- Values: We will incorporate into our academic activities and curricula the values of global social responsibility as portrayed in international initiatives such as the United Nations Global Compact;
- Partnership: We will interact with managers of business corporations to extend our knowledge of their challenges in meeting social and environmental responsibilities and to explore jointly effective approaches to meeting these challenges;
- Method: We will create educational frameworks, materials, processes and environments that enable effective learning experiences for responsible leadership;
- Dialogue: We will facilitate and support dialogue and debate among educators, students, business, government, consumers, media, civil society organisations and other interested groups and stakeholders on critical issues related to global social responsibility and sustainability.
