Purpose

This Contract Notification is to advise training providers that we've made content updates to some information products.

Main points

We redesigned all our information products to be under the Department of Jobs, Skills, Industry and Regions brand. While doing this, we also made minor content updates to 5 of our fact sheets and 2 guides. These changes clarify and expand upon matters concerning concessions, the literacy and numeracy support program, and exemptions from school for students under 17.

Updated information products

All our information products are available on both SVTS and the department's website.

The table below outlines the latest content changes.

Information product	Description of change
Concessions	We explained that you don't have to recheck a student's concession entitlement when moving them to a superseding version of a program that's part of the same enrolment.
How to consider literacy and numeracy skills	We explained that the subjects a student does under the LNSUPPORT code are counted as a skill set for the purpose of working out their 2 in a year limit.
Student eligibility for Skills First	We updated the table to include LNSUPPORT subjects as skill sets for the purpose of working out the 2 in a year limit.
Students under 17	We provided further advice about the form and content of the student's exemption from school form.
