Explosion

At the immediate site of an explosion

- Get out of the area if at all possible

If you are in a building

- Get under a sturdy table or desk if objects are falling around you
- Exit as quickly as possible using stairs, not lifts
- Do not stop to retrieve personal items or make phone calls
- Help people in need if possible

Once you are out of the building

- Keep moving away from the blast site and look for emergency services
- Limit your use of phones and other communications devices as much as possible

If you are trapped

- Cover your nose and mouth with anything suitable (cloth, scarf, etc.)
- Signal your location to rescuers using flashlight, whistle, or tapping on pipe or wall

Caring for the injured

- Provide assistance to the most severely injured people
- In particular, control bleeding by applying direct pressure to the bleeding site

Mental Health Crisis

Mental health crises may be induced by illness, trauma or substance overuse

Assess

- Assess whether the person experiencing the crisis presents risks to you or others
- If risks are present, refer to the Violent Incident page
- If there is no immediate risk:

Alert

- Call Campus Security on 5122 6662
- Seek assistance from a workmate, especially one who has attended Mental Health First Aid training

Assist

- Reassure the person experiencing the crisis that specialised help is on its way and that you will stay with them until then
- Talk and listen to them directly, calmly, and in a non-judgemental manner
- Send someone to guide assistance services to the exact scene of the incident

People with Special Needs

Mobility impairments

- As lifts are not to be used in case of fire, people who are wheelchair-bound may need special assistance to evacuate buildings:
 - Report the matter to the Area Warden (yellow helmet, cap or vest)
 - The Warden will assign a fit and responsible person to stay with the mobility-impaired person
 - The mobility-impaired person and attendant will make use of alternative escape routes, if available
 - If not, the attendant will move the mobility-impaired person to a safe location (e.g. fire-isolated stairs) and remain with them
 - Emergency Services will be promptly notified of details

Other impairments

- During emergencies, offer assistance to people with impairments if safe to do so

Note: staff or students with impairments can request the development of a Personal Emergency Evacuation Plan through their Institute/Directorate and/or the Health, Safety and Wellbeing Department

Suspicious Mail

Suspect mail item

- Do not touch the item!
- Seek to identify the sender and to confirm the content of the item
- If unable to confirm the content of the item, evacuate everybody from the immediate area and prevent re-entry
- Contact the Area Warden
- Call Campus Security on 5122 6662

Mail item contaminated with suspicious substance

- If item has been handled but NOT OPENED, place it in a plastic bag and seal it. Place in a second plastic bag and seal that bag.
- If item has been OPENED, do not disturb it any further. Do not pass it around. Do not try to clean up any spilt material, or brush it from your clothing. If possible place an object over it without disturbing it such as a large waste bin.
- Stay in your office or immediate work area. This also applies to co-workers in the same room. Prevent others from entering the area.
- Call Campus Security on 5122 6662
- Keep your hands away from your face, eyes, nose and mouth
- If possible (without leaving your work area) wash your hands
- Wait for help to arrive

Violent Incident

Note: this page relates to offenders threatening violence for a separate primary goal (e.g. robbery). For armed offenders whose primary intent is to harm people (e.g. terrorists), see Active Armed Offender

If you can safely escape from a violent offender, do so

If a violent offender is directly threatening you

- Stay calm and obey instructions, telling the offender what you are doing and avoiding any sudden movement
- Take a mental picture of the offender and any threat made or weapon produced
- Note the movements of the offender, what he/she is touching and the direction taken after the incident
- Call Campus Security on 5122 6662 as soon as it safe to do so

After the incident

- Lock the area, preserve the crime scene and avoid touching any item touched by the offender
- Provide support to one another and care for any injured or distressed person
- Do not discuss events until interviewed by Police and write down all you can remember about the offender and the incident
- Seek counselling if you feel it may help, even some time after the event
