

Recipients of the Australian Awards for University Teaching (AAUT)

Australian Awards for University Teaching

Citations for outstanding contributions to student learning

2013 OLT Citation Recipients

The Office for Learning and Teaching (OLT) has announced that six Citations for outstanding contributions to student learning have been awarded to University staff. The Citations, one of the categories of the Australian Awards for University Teaching, recognise staff who have made a sustained and significant contribution to the quality of student learning in a specific area.

The University congratulates its 2013 Citations recipients:

Dr Elisa Backer
The Business School

For development of creative, innovative curricula that demonstrates leadership; and as well as providing excellent learning outcomes for students, has gained support from industry

Associate Professor Lorraine Bennett
Centre for Learning Innovation and Professional Practice

For innovative, collaborative and sustained leadership in tertiary education learning and teaching focusing excellence in scholarship, engagement and leadership and staff capacity building.

Dr Jenene Burke
School of Education and Arts

For sustained quality pre-service teacher education utilising authentic local community settings to provide scholarly informed learning experiences that influence, motivate and inspire students to learn.

Dr David 'Fred' Cahir
School of Education and Arts

For designing imaginative and authentic learning experiences which empower indigenous studies students to draw upon research and theory to underpin their philosophy and practice.

Dr Sharon McDonough
School of Education and Arts

For developing and implementing engaging pedagogical approaches, activities and materials that address the theory-practice nexus and support pre-service teacher development.

Mr Ron Pickford
Building and Construction, and Training Centre

For drawing upon, contributing and applying thirty years of professional practice to enhance and inspire student learning through engaging, authentic, innovative project-based learning experiences.

Awards for Teaching Excellence

2013 OLT Teaching Award Recipient

The University congratulates Robyn on being recognised with this prestigious award.

Associate Professor
Robyn Brandenburg
School of Education and Arts

Associate Professor Robyn Brandenburg was awarded an Office of Learning and Teaching National Teaching Excellence award in recognition of her outstanding contribution to student learning over the past fifteen years.