

Think it over.

If it humiliates someone, it's harassment
– and it's not on at FedUni.

Free speech is no licence to trash other people's rights.

Getting too personal can be seriously creepy.

It's no laughing matter when it humiliates.

If you've seen it or it's happened to you – take action.

If it FEELS or SOUNDS wrong, most likely it IS wrong – particularly if the behaviour is sexual, or offensive on a personal basis like your disability, gender, sexual orientation, age, race, religion, pregnancy...
